As among the participants there were beginners and advanced students as well, there were different groups set up and for them – according to their present level – individually designed thematic had been applied.

2. It was decided that from the next Year if there will be enough number of candidates, the course for beginners and advanced level will be organised separately.

It was proposed that those courses must include the whole weekend and they must have opening meeting on the arrival day during the evening, then a 3-day training, and the last day examinations, qualifications and maybe demonstration plus the closing ceremony in the afternoon.

This system will allow us to build up a more professional educational system for all IBSSA Members.
